

Esther Batiri Williams

Dr Esther Batiri Williams is the Deputy Vice Chancellor of the University of the South Pacific (USP), Suva, Fiji Islands. She has held a number of positions prior to this including University Librarian, Pro Vice Chancellor and Director, Planning and Development at the USP. She has served on a number of national boards in Fiji including the Reserve Bank of Fiji, Fiji Audio Visual Commission and Fiji Commerce Commission.

She was a member of the Fiji Education Commission in 2000 and project manager for the European Union's project development team for the Fiji Rural Education Project. She has done research on general elections in Fiji and Samoa. Her current research interests include electoral studies, gender and information and communication technologies. She has represented Fiji in three South Pacific Games in squash.