

Ms Ursula LOCHMANN (née HARNISCHFEGER) born 29 July 1970 in Düsseldorf (Germany) is a Senior Consultant for Regulatory Affairs at Detecon International, a Telecommunications Engineering and Management Consultancy in Germany. She has worked at telecommunication projects in Sudan, South Africa, Mozambique, Tanzania, Pakistan, Swasiland, Uzbekistan, Mongolia, Lithuania, Cyprus and other countries worldwide.

Her key qualifications include experiences with the practical implications of telecommunication regulations such as adopting interconnection and licensing policies for fixed and mobile operators worldwide and the development and implementation of telecommunications sector policies in fast moving environments.

Prior to joining Detecon she has worked at the UK regulator OFTEL as an economist. Her main activities included the solving of interconnection disputes between telecommunication operators. She has also worked for an alternative telecommunications carrier in Germany and for the European Commission in Brussels.
