

MERCY WANJAU

Mercy Wanjau is the Principal Legal Officer with the Communications Commission of Kenya (CCK). Prior to her present engagement, she worked as a tax and legal consultant with PricewaterhouseCoopers.

She holds a Bachelor of Laws degree from the University of Nairobi and a Master of Laws degree from the University of Cape town, South Africa. Currently, she is pursuing a Masters degree in Communications Management as an e-student with Coventry University, United Kingdom.

During the four years she has been with CCK, she has been involved in various legal and regulatory aspects including licensing and enforcement, interpretation of legislation, policy and other legal instruments. She also serves as the Secretary and Legal Advisor to the Board of the Kenya Network Information Center (KENIC), the .ke country code top level domain entity (ccTLD), a private public partnership model that has evolved to be very successful in achieving its goals. At the international level, she has been actively involved in the negotiations pursuant to the World Summit on the Information Society (WSIS) and is the Immediate past Chair, Programme 1 (Regulatory Reform) under the Working Group of Gender Issues, ITU.

Her research interests include Convergence Regulation and ICT Development policy for developing nations.