

Perspectives of the Russian market of broadband access

The description of the market of services of broadband access in segments B2B (business-to-business), B2C (business-to-customer) in Russia is resulted.

It is given market characteristics as a whole, the information on volume, structure, the basic players, level of development Broadband access in Russia, including on technologies is resulted. Are considered, the major factors interfering introduction of services on base broadband access and are revealed the basic trends of development BWA.