

Satoshi (Sam) Oyama – Biography

Mr. Satoshi (Sam) Oyama is Senior Researcher, ITS Group, Association of Radio Industries and Businesses (ARIB), Tokyo, Japan.

Until July 2011, he was with Hitachi, Ltd. While he was stationed in Hitachi Sales Corp. of America, New Jersey Office, U.S.A., he worked for broadcast satellite reception systems and CATV equipment. After his returning to Japan, he has been involving with 5.8GHz DSRC standardization activities. His current interests are on vehicle communications including WLAN for ITS applications, and on millimeter-wave high-resolution short-range radar at 79GHz band.

For ITU-R SG5 WP5A, he has been a delegate of Japan. In 2009, he was assigned to Chair of Sub WG2 for ITS radiocommunications.

In Asia-Pacific, he was Leader of Wireless Communications Joint Expert Groups and Rapporteur of ITS EG, Asia-Pacific Telecommunity (APT) Standardization Program (ASTAP) Until August 2009. Since September 2009, he has been Chair of ITS Task Group, APT Wireless Group (AWG).

He is Chair of DSRC International Working Group, DSRC Expert Group, and Vice Chair of Vehicle Safety Communications Task Group, ITS Info-communications Forum, Japan.

In ISO, he has been an expert from Japan for TC204 WG15, and he was Leader of International Harmonization Project, Radio Communications Sub WG in Japan.

From December 2006 to March 2009, he served as Chair of International relationship and Architecture Sub Committee, J-Safety Committee in ITS Japan.

In May 2006, he received the Achievement Award from ITU Association of Japan. He is a registered Professional Engineer.