Company Profile

Aliope's innovative solutions provide media and entertainment companies and network operators the necessary infrastructure to effectively manage the production and consumption of multimedia content for both fixed and wireless networks. Our solutions support a distributed working environment necessary for editorial control of publishing, annotation, syndication and DRM functions. This facilitates a 'publish once' to support multiple distribution platforms including SMS, MMS, WAP and WEB employing download, streaming and caching techniques. Aliope's automated solutions in the compressed digital domain enable real-time delivery of business critical content optimised for mobile IP consumption.
