Traff-X, a European Carrier Facilitator, is a unique and profitable business model. Based on a physical platform in Brussels, Traff-X offers voice services to carriers and voice service providers. The main concept is to have one central interconnection place for all telecommunications carriers in order for them to sell and buy voice minutes on a cost efficient way and, to offer added value services to voice service providers. These unique value-added services, such as: – dynamic LCR on call-by-call basis – extended credit limit software – flexible switch partitioning – switchless collecting, which eliminates the technical, financial and legal blocking factors that carriers and voice service providers encounter in the market.
