Company Profile

Gilat Satellite Networks Ltd. is a leading provider of telecommunications solutions based on very small aperture terminal (VSAT) satellite network technology. Established in 1987, the company, together with its global subsidiaries, provides satellite-based, end-to-end enterprise networking and rural telephony solutions to customers in more than 80 countries and markets interactive broadband data services to residential and small office/home office (SOHO) customers. Gilat's networks feature a small satellite dish, sophisticated networking electronics and software providing reliable satellite connectivity and the ability to connect where alternatives are too costly, limited or non-existent.
