Company Profile

BlackBerry®, developed and manufactured by Research In Motion, provides an always-on-wireless extension for corporate and personal email accounts, using advanced BlackBerry Wireless Handhelds, software and services. With BlackBerry, users can manage all their communications email, phone, browser, attachment handling, calendar and other personal information while on the move. Data is pushed directly to and from the handheld. Enterprise users also have encryption and access to wider corporate data. RIM's BlackBerry Connect licensing programme is extending the number of handsets that can connect to the BlackBerry email platform for enterprise. BlackBerry Connect partners include Nokia, Microsoft, HTC, Symbian and PalmSource.
