Titles and summaries of the draft Recommendations

Draft new Recommendation ITU-R BT.[HDR-TV]

Doc. 6/39(Rev.1)

Image parameter values for high dynamic range television for use in production and international programme exchange

This Recommendation documents two methods of representing HDR-TV signals for use in broadcasting. The Perceptual Quantization (PQ) specification achieves a very wide range of brightness levels for a given bit depth using a non-linear transfer function that is finely tuned to match the human visual system. The Hybrid Log-Gamma (HLG) specification offers a degree of compatibility with legacy displays by more closely matching the previously established television transfer curves.

The draft new Recommendation seeks to achieve as much commonality as possible between the signal formats of the two methods, while allowing producers freedom to adopt an approach that best suits their particular circumstances and requirements. Conversion between the two signal formats is described.

Draft revision of Recommendation ITU-R BT.2036-0

Doc. 6/20

Characteristics of a reference receiving system for frequency planning of digital terrestrial television systems

This revision to Annex 2 of Recommendation ITU-R BT.2036 proposes to add characteristics of the adjacent channel selectivity thresholds in the ATSC receiving system with respect to the presence of interferers on multiple adjacent channels.
