

Robert C. Simmonds

As Executive Vice President, Regulatory at TELUS Mobility, Bob Simmonds is responsible for all regulatory affairs for the federally licensed national wireless carrier and the management of its extensive spectrum holdings

Bob founded and was President of Clearnet Inc. from 1985 to 1992 and served as Chairman and a Director of Clearnet from 1985 until its merger with TELUS Mobility in October, 2000. Bob was one of the original founders of the Lenbrook group of companies in 1977, and currently serves as Vice-Chairman of the Board of Directors.

A Professional Engineer, Bob graduated from the Electrical Engineering Science program of the University of Toronto in 1975, and is widely regarded as one of Canada's leading wireless communications engineers. He's been heavily involved for more than 25 years in spectrum and regulatory activity regarding trunked land-mobile radio (SMR), ESMR, cellular radio, PCS and cordless telephones, playing a key role in establishing many of Industry Canada's radio and spectrum policies, frequency band plans and equipment standards.

TELUS Mobility, combining the national wireless operations of TELUS, Clearnet and QuébecTel Mobilité, provides a full suite of wireless services to more than two million clients across Canada. For more information, please visit us at www.telusmobility.com
