Bianca Faith Johnson is a Legal Professional, Professor, Public Orator and Convener. Bianca has had the opportunity to teach, feed and clothe thousands of orphans in countries such as Kenya, Haiti and Vietnam. Bianca has also been able to share her gift of oration at numerous conferences and events for WBLS and the NAACP.

She attended Queens College for her Bachelors in English and Honors Business, graduated from Touro Law Center with her Juris Doctorate and is currently simultaneously enrolled in graduate programs for Immigration Law and Urban Youth Ministry.

Bianca was involved in a near fatal motorcycle accident in 2017, which left her paralyzed from the chest down. Bianca believes that there's nothing she can't do.
