

Harrison Lung

Group Chief Strategy Officer, e&

Harrison Lung is the Group Chief Strategy Officer of e&. He oversees corporate strategy and planning, mergers and acquisitions (M&A), value creation, ESG/sustainability, strategic partnerships and corporate venture capital. With over two decades of experience in the telecom and technology sectors, and before joining e&, he was a Partner at Siris Capital, a leading New York-based private equity firm investing in core technology and telecom assets.

Harrison formerly held the positions of partner for technology, telecom, and digital in North America and Asia at McKinsey & Company. During his time, he worked with technology providers across the value chain and technology buyers on their strategic agenda. He also He was a technical architect at Bell Mobility, Sprint Canada (now Rogers Communications), and Accenture's mobile technology department.