

Zhiping Chen

Vice President, ZTE Corporation

Zhiping Chen (Summer) has extensive experience in the telecoms industry for over two decades. She has been engaged in R&D, operation and branding for many years, gaining profound and unique insights into business areas such as industry trend, business model innovation, management of branding and PR strategies in the international telecommunications field.

Summer joined ZTE in 1999. She currently serves as Vice President. Before that, she successively assumed management positions in charge of wireless system R&D and global marketing. Summer was rewarded the "Technical Person of the Year 2017 Award" issued by China Association of Communication Enterprises (CACE), and was among the members of the "2018 Top 10 Leaders in 5G" list issued by Communications World.

Summer holds a master degree in engineering from Huazhong University of Science and Technology.