Biography

Mary Alcantara has been a key player in the Hungarian startup ecosystem for the last 7 years. She is a founding partner of tandemLEAP, a business management company with offices in Budapest and New York City. With a background in business development and management consulting, Mary helps launch and promote Hungarian startups and tech companies to international markets. She has consulted and mentored for many of Budapest's leading incubation and accelerator programs, including the Hungarian government's INPUT Program, and is a founding member of the Hungarian Business Angel Network. Mary currently serves as Deputy Managing Director at MKB Fintechlab, Hungary's first fintech investor and innovation lab. She is passionate about open innovation, building ecosystems, and helping corporates create superior experiences for their customers.
