

Title: IP Interconnect Next Gen interconnect topologies and enabling new service models

Summary:

IPX concepts are in the early stages of adoption for Next Gen network interconnect, complementing the existing IP bi-laterals, peering and hubbing services. This session will discuss the connectivity models, addressing solutions and implications of implementing multilateral IP interconnects, including number portability and service discovery.