Internet-based Distance-Learning course for Latin America Telecom regulators surpasses all expectations

Geneva – The distance-learning course on Telecommunication Regulation for Latin America of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU) has attracted a record number of participants. The popular distance-learning course, organized by the ITU Telecommunication Development Bureau (BDT) under the "Centres of Excellence (CoE)" project, is being delivered over the Internet to regulatory officials in Latin America through the ITU Virtual Training Centre (VTC). The ten-week course was launched on 3 April and runs through to Friday, 2 June 2000.
