

Mehmet Alper Tekin is ICT expert at BTK, the national regulatory authority of Türkiye. There, he is responsible for consumer rights regulations in the telecom sector since 2006. He has been actively engaged in regulations and inspections on the topics such as subscription contracts, value added services, billing requirements, information publication and transparency requirements. Prior to consumer protection department, he worked at Sectoral Research and Strategy Development Department, which is responsible for collecting market data and publishing statistics in telecom sector. He was a vice chair under question 6 of ITU-D Study Group 1 in 2018-2022 study period and now he is vice chair of ITU-D Study Group 1. He holds an MSc in Financial Economics from Boston University and a BS degree in Industrial Engineering from Middle East Technical University in Ankara.