Teddy Woodhouse (he/him) is an international policy manager at Ofcom, the UK communications regulator. In this role, he is responsible for Ofcom's engagement within the ITU's Development Sector and supporting ICT4D efforts more broadly. Before Ofcom, Teddy worked at the Alliance for Affordable Internet (A4AI), conducting research in telecommunications policy and regulation, with a focus on internet affordability in low- and middle-income countries. He holds degrees from the University of St Andrews and the London School of Economics and speaks English, French, Spanish, and Czech.