

Tatiana ZASHEVA (Ms)

Radio Research and Development Institute
(Russian Federation)

Tatiana joined Radio Research and Development Institute in April 2022 as a Specialist. Since then, she has been representing the Russian Administration for Communications, as appropriate, in key ICT and digital development fora, and expert bodies, including at ITU, UN ESCAP, UNCTAD, APEC, and others. In 2022, she co-authored the inaugural Policy Brief by Working Group 2 on Digital Technologies and Applications of the Asia-Pacific Information Superhighway (UN ESCAP). She helped update and analyze data for Kazakhstan, Kyrgyz Republic, Mongolia and Tajikistan, for the 2021 edition of the UN ESCAP E-Resilience Monitoring Dashboard.

Previously, Tatiana worked in international development, government relations, and project management in Russia and abroad, she is keenly interested in the intersection of governance, technology, and political risk. Tatiana graduated Summa Cum Laude with an MA degree in Political Science from Lomonosov Moscow State University and is fluent in Russian, English, and Mandarin Chinese.

Contact information

Tel. +79157525868

e-mail: zasheva@niir.ru

Radio Research and Development Institute (NIIR)

Address: 16 Kazakova str., Moscow 105064, Russian Federation
