ARNAUD TADDEI

Mr Arnaud Taddei is a Global Security Strategist at Symantec by Broadcom. He is an executive advisor on Security Strategy and Transformation for the top 150 Symantec customers. As part of his mission, Mr Taddei participates in specific Standardization Defining Organizations and in particular, was elected ITU-T SG17 Vice Chairman representing the UK and works at the IETF.

He started his career in 1993 at the famous CERN IT Division in Geneva which created the World Wide Web and where he led the team responsible for Communication, Authentication and Authorization. In 2000, he joined Sun Microsystems where he became one of the 100 elected global Principle Engineers. In 2007 he joined Symantec and hold Chief Architect roles up to Director of Research as direct report to Dr Hugh Thompson, Symantec's CTO and actual RSA Conference Chairman.

Graduated as Telecom Engineer from the Ecole Nationale Supérieure de Télécommunication de Bretagne, France, Mr Taddei owns a DEA with INRIA, which led him to the Institute of Control Sciences, Russian Academy of Sciences, Moscow in 1992.