

Mr Juan Castro, Senior Radiocommunication Engineer, BR, ITU

Juan Castro, telecommunication engineer with over 25 years of professional experience, holds the position of senior radiocommunication engineer at the International Telecommunication Union (ITU) where he is in charge of the Plan modifications of GE06 Regional Agreement. He also participates in World Radiocommunication Conferences and regional coordination exercises in different parts of the world to facilitate the transition from analogue to digital television and the allocation of the Digital Dividend. He initiated his career in the Spanish administration holding positions dealing with the national broadcasting planning and the deployment of broadband cable television networks.