

GALIMIRA MARKOVA

Senior Coordinator on Early Warnings at the International Telecommunication Union (ITU)

Galimira (Mira) Markova is the Senior Coordinator on Early Warnings at the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). She has over 15 years of international experience in disaster risk reduction, resilience, climate and agricultural risk management, and development policy. Prior to joining ITU, she served in several roles at the United Nations Office for Disaster Risk Reduction (UNDRR), including Risk Knowledge Expert and Programme Officer, and previously held positions with the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD), the European Commission, and national governments in Africa. Mira holds an MPhil from the University of Cambridge and has worked extensively on strengthening risk governance, resilience, and early warning systems around the world.