

XUAN XIA

Mr Xuan Xia is the R&D Manager at China Zensmart. He specializes in deploying Artificial Intelligence in critical public services and infrastructure, such as telecommunications, energy, and transportation. His work focuses on making AI systems reliable, transparent, and verifiable. He is dedicated to bridging the gap between advanced AI capabilities and practical regulatory needs, ensuring that technology can be safely and reliably trusted in high-stakes environments where errors are not an option.