

RESOLUTION ITU-R 7-1

Telecommunication development including liaison and collaboration with the ITU Telecommunication Development Sector

(1993-2000)

The ITU Radiocommunication Assembly,

considering

- a) that one of the purposes of the Union is to “foster international cooperation and solidarity in the delivery of technical assistance to the developing countries and the creation, development and improvement of telecommunication equipment and networks in developing countries by every means at its disposal, ...” (No. 14 of the ITU Constitution);
- b) that a further purpose of the Union is also to “undertake studies, make regulations, adopt resolutions, formulate Recommendations and Opinions and collect and publish information concerning telecommunication matters” (No. 18 of the Constitution);
- c) that the Constitution and the ITU Convention consolidate the activities of the ITU relating to radiocommunications in the Radiocommunication Sector and the activities relating to the technical cooperation with, and assistance to, developing countries in the Telecommunication Development Sector;
- d) that Nos. 159 and 160 of the Convention require that the Radiocommunication Study Groups “... pay due attention to the study of Questions and to the formulation of Recommendations directly connected with the establishment, development and improvement of telecommunications in developing countries at both the regional and international levels” and that, for the purpose of facilitating the review of activities in the Radiocommunication Sector, “... measures should be taken to foster cooperation and coordination with ... the Telecommunication Development Sector”;
- e) that Resolution 5 (Rev.Doha, 2006) of the World Telecommunication Development Conference further instructs the Director of the Telecommunication Development Bureau in close collaboration with the Directors of the Radiocommunication and Telecommunication Standardization Bureaux, to consider and implement the best ways and means to assist developing countries, and in particular least developed countries, in preparing for and participating actively in the work of the three Sectors, and notably in the Sector advisory groups, assemblies and conferences and in the Study Groups of particular relevance to developing countries;
- f) that Resolution 66 (Rev. Minneapolis, 1998) of the Plenipotentiary Conference instructs the Director of the Telecommunication Development Bureau to implement, as a priority, in close coordination with the Director of the Radiocommunication Bureau and the Director of the Telecommunication Standardization Bureau, strategies and mechanisms to encourage and facilitate the efficient use by the developing countries, and in particular least developed countries, of the Web-based documents and publications of the Union;
- g) that in accordance with No. 134 of the Convention, the Radiocommunication Assembly shall “group Questions of interest to developing countries, as far as possible, in order to facilitate their participation in the study of those Questions”,

noting

- a) the very limited material and financial resources available to the developing countries, preventing them from participating regularly in the work of the Radiocommunication Study Groups;
- b) the adverse effects which the absence of the developing countries from Study Group activities has on the universal nature of Study Group decisions and, possibly, on their effective application;
- c) that the procedure for adopting Recommendations by correspondence necessitates adequate exchange of information to obtain the broadest possible support;
- d) that, since the Radiocommunication Study Group work now involves Radiocommunication Conference preparation including procedures and other matters related to the Radio Regulations, all countries, irrespective of their level of development, need to be fully informed of developments in the studies,

further considering

- a) the important function of the Telecommunication Development Bureau in the provision of efficient consultancy to developing countries and the need to benefit in this respect from the expertise existing in the Secretariat of the Radiocommunication Bureau;
- b) that the complementary activities of engineers in the two Sectors, when appropriately coordinated, would benefit greatly the developing countries,

recognizing

- 1 that the developing countries themselves should, to the extent possible:
  - 1.1 participate in an active manner in the work of the Radiocommunication Study Groups, and provide any relevant technical information they possess concerning the conditions in their respective countries;

  - 1.3 take advantage of the participation of countries of the same region in the meetings of the Study Groups;
  - 1.4 when they face difficulties which may be of interest to other administrations during the course of operating radio services, be encouraged to submit contributions to the Radiocommunication Bureau describing these difficulties. The Director of the Radiocommunication Bureau will communicate these contributions to the appropriate Study Group(s),

resolves
