Re: Patent Licensing Policy
H.262/ISO/IEC 13818-2
H.222.0/ISO/IEC 13818-1

November 2, 1994

We are pleased that the standardization process is moving to balloting for the proposed H.262/ISO/IEC 13818-2 and H.222.0/ISO/IEC 13818-1 standards (the "Standards").

As to those standards, David Sarnoff Research Center (Sarnoff) hereby declares that it has no patents or pending patent applications in any country, nor does Sarnoff anticipate that it will own any such patents or pending patent applications, which are absolutely necessary to implement the Standards.

In the event that Sarnoff should become the owner, or have the ability to license others, under any patents and patent applications which are absolutely necessary to implement the Standards, Sarnoff agrees, to the extent that it has the power to do so at the time, to grant licenses in any such patents or pending patent applications to an unlimited number of applicants throughout the world under reasonable terms and conditions that are demonstrably free of any unfair competition.

If any clarification of this statement on behalf of Sarnoff is required, please contact me directly.

Yours sincerely

William J. Suh
