

Joseph McCarroll

Assistant Director in the International Engagement and Strategy Team at Australia's Department of Communications and the Arts

In this position, Joseph leads Australia's engagement with the Asia-Pacific Telecommunity, the International Telecommunication Union's Telecommunication Development Sector, the World Summit on the Information Society and the APEC Telecommunications and Information Working Group. He also manages the Department's engagement with the whole-of-government trade agenda led by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade.

In previous roles with the Department, Joseph has worked on issues relating to communications critical infrastructure resilience, international mobile roaming, and universal service policy.