About Vilnius

Vilnius is the capital of Lithuania and its largest city, with a population of around 600 000. It is located in the southeast part of Lithuania and is the second largest city in the Baltic States. Vilnius is the seat of the main government institutions of Lithuania and is known for the architecture in its Old Town, which was declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1994. In 2009, Vilnius was the European Capital of Culture, together with the Austrian city of Linz.

The Old Town is one of the largest surviving medieval old towns in Northern Europe. It encompasses 74 quarters, with 70 streets and lanes, 1 487 buildings and a total floor area of 1 497 000 square metres. The oldest part of the Lithuanian capital of Vilnius, it has developed over the course of many centuries, and has been shaped by the city's history and a constantly changing cultural influence. It is a place where some of Europe's greatest architectural styles – gothic, renaissance, baroque and neoclassical – stand side by side and complement each other.

Pilies Street is the Old Town's main artery and the hub of café and street market life. The main street of Vilnius, Gediminas Avenue, is partially located in the Old Town. The central squares in the Old Town are the Cathedral Square and the Town Hall Square.
