

Mr. Angus Davis
Chief Strategy Officer for Innovation Capital Management

Mr. Angus Davis, Chief Strategy Officer for Innovation Capital Management has been a senior executive and advisor in strategic and operational planning and process improvement for 15 years. Mr. Davis works with policy experts, government affairs professionals, mayors and economic development agencies in creating new business models for economic growth in the evolving broadband economy. His expertise is in building high-performance teams and leading sophisticated business transactions. As CSO he provides market intelligence, analyzes complex regulatory environments and holds positions of trust in several companies and leads the Broadband Innovation Fund's intelligent city initiatives and public private partnerships.