

Noelle de Guzman is the Regional Programmes Coordinator for Asia Pacific at the Internet Society (ISOC). She has worked extensively in international development and media policy and is currently handling the regional activities of ISOC's Asia-Pacific Bureau.