

Dr. Azim Fard

Dr. Azim Fard was born in Sarab, Iran (I.R.) in August 1969. He received B.Sc. from Sharif University of Technology in communication engineering in 1993, M.Sc. in 1996 and Ph.D. in 2001 both from Amirkabir University in same era. He started to work on Spectrum Management from 1996 until now while continuing academic activities in the field of radiocommunications. He, as professional in radiocommunications regulations and spectrum management, has conducted several oversea missions in behalf of ITU for promotion of national spectrum management of several countries and development of their national Radio Regulations. He is now member of scientific board of ICT faculty as well as General Director of spectrum planning, engineering and licensing in the Communications Regulatory Authority of ministry of ICT.