

Mr. John Smiciklas

Mr. Smiciklas is the Director, Energy and Environment, Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA) Canada and the founder of MJRD a global consulting firm that provides specialized management system, sustainability and corporate responsibility consulting to a broad range of international clients

John is an effective leader with demonstrated success in leading enterprise-wide and global initiatives related to climate change, sustainability and corporate responsibility. A challenge-driven professional with the ability to articulate and implement a strategic vision for long term sustainability and corporate responsibility by building productive rapport within all levels of an organization and with external stakeholders.