

Peeyush Kumar – Short Bio and Photo

Peeyush Kumar is a research scientist at Microsoft Research. He has built large-scale distributed intelligent systems and conducted applied research across disciplines from food and agriculture, healthcare, technology, energy, enterprise solutions and supply chain & logistics. He is active in various research and industrial communities and continue to publish and review work for publications. Peeyush brings a versatile approach to building intelligent technology which empowers people and communities to live their highest potential. He is an entrepreneur, artificial intelligence scientist, software architect, engineer, executive, engineering manager, market analyst, and developer by background. He received a PhD from University of Washington in the field of operations research.

Public Profile: <https://www.microsoft.com/en-us/research/people/pekumar/>

Linkedin: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/agaronpeeyush/>

