

Skylar Hurwitz

Skylar Hurwitz is the founder of US-based Demetrius Consulting, a firm focused on bridging the knowledge gap between blockchain software developers and small to medium sized enterprises (SMEs). His most recent activities include editing the reports of the UN's International Telecommunication Union's (ITU-T) Focus Group on Application of Distributed Ledger Technology (FG-DLT) and contributing technical guides to Jelurida, a Swiss-based blockchain software company. His previous experience includes working as a grant manager of a $20 million portfolio at Conservation International, where he oversaw agreement compliance and financial capacity building for small NGOs across Southeast Asia and Western Africa.
