

Quayin Tan

Dr. Quayin Tan is an Assistant Professor of the Solid Waste Management Division from Tsinghua University. His area of interest includes prevention and control of pollution and risk from solid waste, policy on Solid Waste Management, recycling and recover technology for resources in consumable products and policy for relevant industry.

He has contributed towards a number of research projects, and the most recent ones include, “Study on Collection Modes of Scrap Power Battery and their Effectiveness Evaluation Methods” (PI) for the National Natural Science Foundation of China and “Study on the implementation scheme of compulsory classification of hazardous waste in Chaoyang district, Beijing” (PI) for National Natural Science Foundation of China

Dr. Quayin holds a Ph.D. in Environmental Science and Engineering, Tsinghua University, China.