The CyberDrill event is to be hosted by University Politehnica of Bucharest (UPB), the largest and the oldest technical university in Romania, with its traditions connected to the founding of the first Romanian higher technical school, back in 1818.

Today, UPB holds 15 faculties in different areas of engineering, e.g., Faculty of Electronics, Telecommunications and Information Technology, Faculty of Automation and Computer Science, Faculty of Power Engineering, Faculty of Transports, etc; a faculty with teaching in foreign languages (English, French and German) and two interdisciplinary faculties for Medical Engineering and Business Management. The university provides education for about 27,000 students yearly (for license, master, doctoral and post-doctoral cycles) who are coordinated by more than 1,200 professors and researchers.

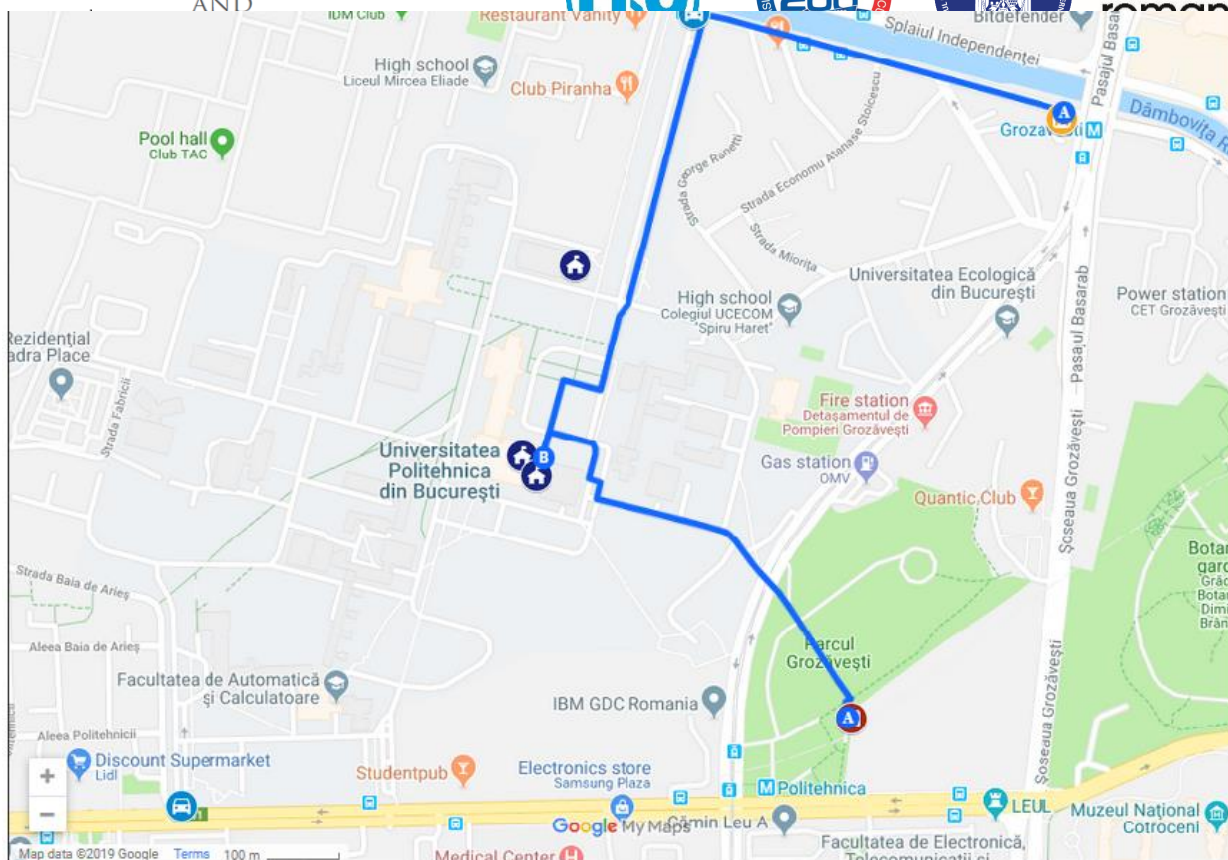

UPB is located on the West side of Bucharest (~17 Km/10 Miles from the airport and ~6 Km/4 Miles away from city downtown). UPB's large campus (~600,000 m²) provide the visitors with many facilities, including cafeterias and recreational spaces, parks, a library and conference building, a new aula (with 1,200 places), and two new interdisciplinary research centers (with green and self sustained buildings).
