

ITU RED-AFRICA REGIONAL ECONOMIC DIALOGUE FOR AFRICA: Meaningful and Affordable Digital Connectivity for Africa

Alain Sawadogo
Senior Digital Development Specialist
World Bank

Alain is Senior Digital Development Specialist at World Bank. In more than fourteen years in the service of digital development, Alain Tounwende Sawadogo has progressively specialized in issues related to strategic management, economic and regulatory aspects in Africa and internationally. He was a head of Corporate Department of Multinational School of Telecommunications (ESMT), ITU center of excellence.

Alain managed projects at regulatory authorities (Benin, Burundi, Mali, Chad, Comoros, DRC, Guinea, Niger,...), operators (Benin, Burkina Faso, Chad, Djibouti, DRC, Guinea, Mali, Mauritania, Senegal,...) ensuring compliance with commitments: quality, responsibilities, deadlines.

He contributed to the development of national ICT strategies in Benin, Burundi, Comoros, Democratic Republic of Congo, Guinea, Niger, Senegal, etc. and developed costing models for wholesale and detailed services.

Alain has also overseen the operational direction of major projects on behalf of International Telecommunication Union (ITU), GSMA, UNESCO, SOS village in the performance of his duties at ESMT.

Alain Hold of a doctorate degree in management from Institut Mines-Télécom, and two masters from Centre Africain d'Études Supérieures en Gestion (CESAG).