Dr. Bader Al-Manthari, Director General of the Information Security Division at ITA, holds a PhD in Computer Science from Queen's University (Canada). He joined the Information Technology Authority (ITA) beginning of 2010 and since then he has worked on many national projects in Information Security in addition to many other national initiatives related to Information Technology. Dr. Bader is currently a member in many national and international committees including the Academic Committee of the University of Oman, Program Advisory Committee for the IT Program at Arab Open University, the Research Grant and Evaluation Committee for the Information and Communication Sector at the Research Council, the Evaluation Criteria Review and Enhancement Committee of His Majesty Award for eGovernment, Steering Committee of the Information Security Management, Steering Committee of the Public Key Infrastructure project, Steering Committee of the Government Cloud, Steering Committee of ITA Business Continuity Management, the Omani Inventors Steering Committee, and others. Dr. Bader is also a member of the Technical Program Committees many highly ranked international conferences. He has also given more than 40 lectures and speeches both nationally and internationally in various topics in ICT. Furthermore, Dr. Bader is certified ITIL, SABSA, and ILM Level 5 Award in Leadership and Management.

Dr. Bader served as a jury in the Oman National Research Award for the ICT Sector in 2014, 2015, and 2016, a jury member in the 12th GCC Scientific Forum, Muscat, Oman 2010, a jury member for the 2nd GCC and 3rd GCC Award for eGovernment held in Kuwait 2011, and UAE 2013, respectively, and a jury member in the Saudi e-Government Achievement Award 2014. He was selected as one of the top 40 super achievers in the Sultanate of Oman in 2011. He has also won a number of national and international awards.