

ITU Public Webinar on Broadcasting services for COVID-19 response

BIO

Dr Eun-Ju Kim, Chief Digital Knowledge Department, BDT/ITU

Dr. Eun-Ju Kim is currently Chief of Digital Knowledge Hub Department, BDT/ITU, overseeing capacity and digital skills development, ICT data and analytics, creating enabling legal, policy, regulatory and market environments, and the neutral contribution-driven ITU-D Study Groups through various platforms, services and products in close coordination and partnership with various stakeholders, which can contribute to achieving ITU Goals and the UN SDGs for a sustainable digital economy and society, after having served as Chief of the Innovation and Partnership Department and Regional Director for Asia and the Pacific in ITU, Lecturer in the London City University, Senior Adviser to Minister of Communications, and Senior Research Fellow at KISDI (R.O.Korea). She holds MA from the Seoul National University (R.O.Korea), and MA and PhD from the London City University (UK). She has also undertaken an Executive Education at the Harvard Kennedy School and published numerous books and articles with 30 years' experiences.