

Leo Mondale, Managing Director Growth Management & Support, Inmarsat

Before taking responsibility for the “Growth Management & Support” organization of Inmarsat and for the development and launch of Global Xpress, Mr Mondale served as Vice President of Business Development and Strategy at Inmarsat, based in the Washington, DC office. Before joining Inmarsat in 2004, Mr Mondale held a variety of senior positions in the satellite and aerospace industries, including as partner in Thaler Associates, a defence industry advisory firm, and as President of Arianespace Inc., responsible for the U.S. sales, marketing and governmental affairs of the European launch services firm. Mr Mondale was part of the team that developed the Iridium narrowband satellite communications program at Motorola, and served Iridium through 1999 in a range of posts, including Senior VP and Chief Financial Officer. Mr Mondale holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Minnesota and was awarded a Jurist Doctor degree from The George Washington University, Washington, DC.