

ITU Event on “Combating Counterfeit and Substandard ICT Devices”

Provisional

PROGRAMME

ITU Headquarters, Geneva, Switzerland
17-18 November 2014

Substandard and fake ICT products are a serious issue that impacts developed and developing economies, the ICT industry, as well as the consumer population around the world. The costs and negative effects of substandard and fake ICT products on all stakeholders are broad and numerous—ranging from lost taxes to decreased sales, to reduced incentive to innovate and invest.

The objectives of this ITU event are therefore threefold: (1) to discuss the global scope and impact of counterfeiting and substandard ICT products, (2) to highlight the various stakeholders’ common concerns, challenges, best practices and opportunities, and (3) to examine the possible role of ITU as part of the global strategy and solution to curtail counterfeiting and substandard ICT products and to assist its members in addressing their concerns regarding such products.

SESSION 4

Interactive Dialogues on the Way Forward

ITU: Development Opportunities and International Standards as part of the Global Strategy against Counterfeit and Substandard ICT Products

14:30-16:30

This session will feature a series of interactive, collaborative dialogues among all participants concerning the roles and activities that ITU could take as part of the global strategy to fight counterfeit and substandard ICT products. Within such context, this session aims to identify specific actions to be taken by ITU in order to develop technical tools, facilitate the gathering and exchange of knowledge, information and practices, raise awareness, and increase coordination and collaboration among the various stakeholders.

(Note: This session will take place in the ITU Montbrillant building, 2nd Floor, opposite the "ICT Discovery")

Moderator: Mr Tomas LAMANAUSKAS, Head, Corporate Strategy Division, ITU

Rapporteurs of Interactive Dialogues:

- Mr João ZANON, Regulatory Specialist, Regulatory and Planning Superintendence, Agência Nacional de Telecomunicações (ANATEL), Brazil
- Mr Keith MAINWARING, Editor, TR-Counterfeiting (UNIS, Ukraine)

Methodology of Interactive Dialogue Series: This session will be divided into 2 conversation rounds (each guided by a question) during which participants actively exchange ideas and gain a better understanding of each other's perspectives, as follows:

- For each conversation round, participants actively discuss the relevant question in small groups of four to five persons, and change groups for the next round; allowing for a cross-pollination of views and ideas.

- At the end of each round, all views and ideas issuing from the conversation are collected and shared with all participants.

Additionally, two brief town-hall sessions will be held in order to identify the overall trends, collective insights, common solutions or follow-up actions generated by the group at large.

16:30-17:00

Closing

- Closing remarks from the Chair of the Event, Dr Eugene JUWAH, Executive Vice Chairman/CEO, National Communications Commission (NCC), Nigeria
- Closing remarks from Mr Malcolm JOHNSON, Director, Telecommunication Standardization Bureau, ITU
