

Title: What is Next?

Abstract:

The talk will highlight main differentiations between 4G and 5G and through some challenging use cases will try to justify next generation technical requirements which can not be met through 5G and its expected evolutions. In this talk, some long term research challenges will also be identified.