

Mr. Sungham CHOI is currently Program Director of the Center for Advanced Study on Broadband Development (CEABAD) by the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), the Telecommunications Regulatory Entity of Nicaragua (TELCOR), and Ministry of Science, ICT and Future Planning (MSIP) of Korea since October 2014. He has developed and managed ICT capacity building programs for officials and experts in the Central American region and the Dominican Republic. He joined the National Information Society Agency (NIA) of Korea in 2004 and managed ICT training programs for policy makers and regulators in developing countries over the last 10 years. In addition, he participated in many international meetings and conferences such as International Telecommunication Union (ITU), Asia Pacific Telecommunity (APT), Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN), Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC), Inter-American Telecommunication Commission (CITEL) as a member of Korean government delegation. Specially, he was a senior advisor to the chairman of 2014 ITU Plenipotentiary Conference in Busan, Korea.

