

ITU Regional Standardization Forum on Emerging Economic, Regulatory and Policy Trends for an Inclusive, Sustainable and Trustworthy Digital World

Antananarivo, Madagascar
18 February 2019

Amine Mcharek, PhD

Advisor for Economic and Policy Issues' Study
Group 3 and its 5 regional groups, TSB, ITU

With a diverse professional background spanning public sector, business and academia, Dr. Amine Mcharek has been developing and analyzing policies for the implementation of new technologies, strategies for innovation and their impact on economy and market structure for some 15 years. He received his PhD from Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology (KAIST). His research focused on the impact of innovation on economic development in the context of developing countries. Prior to that, he received an M.S in electrical engineering and an M.A in IT management and policy.

His professional experiences, span areas such as engineering, public sector projects management and coordination, with responsibilities in advisory areas, consultancy, as well as International Cooperation development, and active participation in several ICT global developmental projects in more than a twenty countries. He acted international consultant for several private companies and government agencies as well as international institution and development banks such as Samsung, Netmundial, African development Bank, ITU.

Amine is now working in the ITU's Standardization Bureau, where he is Advisor for Economic and Policy Issues' Study Group 3 and its 5 regional groups.