- My name is Shaka Sasha Essa from Sierra Leone. I have an educational background from Electrical and Electronic Engineering with emphasis on Telecommunications. I work with the Telecoms Regulator, the National Telecommunications Commission (NATCOM) which regulates the sector in Sierra Leone. I work in the Department of Regulatory Administration and I am the Manager in charge of Fraud Management Systems at the Commission. My unit also handles Numbering Management including Misuse or Fraud regarding numbering resources. We advice the Commission on Short Code Harmonization, Regulations on Numbering Management and related regulations and Assignment of numbering resources to operators in Sierra Leone. Together with another colleague (Maruff Barrie), we represent the Commission for Numbering Management issues in the country, and the ITU-T Study Group 2. We update the ITU on all numbering management issues including regulations and misuse.
