

Second Meeting of the Global Initiative on Artificial Intelligence for Health (GI-AI4H)

Practical information for participants

Dates

Mon 17 – Wed 19 March 2025

Venue information

Venue:

Centre for Life Sciences (CeLS)
National University of Singapore
28 Medical Drive, Singapore 117456

Map: <https://maps.app.goo.gl/63ezz9BWW71nwZjP7>

Registration for either in-person or online attendance

Register in advance at <https://itu.int/go/giai4h/reg>. You will need an ITU account.

- See instructions in this link if you don't already have one.
- If you forgot your password, try "Forgot password?" at <https://user.itu.int/login>.

Online participation

Online access to the meeting will be made exclusively via <https://remote.itu.int> (general); a filtered list is also available (click the screenshot below). Make sure to login using the same ITU account used for your registration, otherwise you will not be able to connect.

Since all registration requests need to be screened by the secretariat, participants are urged to register well in advance to avoid last minute difficulties.

Once logged in, scroll the list if needed until you see "Meeting of the Global Initiative on AI for Health". If you do not see it on the day of the meeting (check the sliding rule on the top of the window), it probably means that your registration has not yet been OKed by the secretariat or that you logged in with an ITU account different from the one you used to register for the meeting. You can join the session from 30 minutes prior to the start of the session: click the JOIN button on the right side. If the button is shaded out (not clickable), refresh the browser (e.g., Control+F5 in Windows PCs).

Time difference

Time zone: Singapore Standard Time (GMT+8). Check here for a sample of time zones or here for a map of specific meeting times.

Visa entry regulations

For e-visa issuing, please visit the Singapore Immigration & Checkpoints Authority website, in particular the conditions for entering the country. Please complete, within three days before you arrive, your SG Arrival Online Submission at <https://www.ica.gov.sg/enter-transit-depart/entering-singapore/sg-arrival-card>.

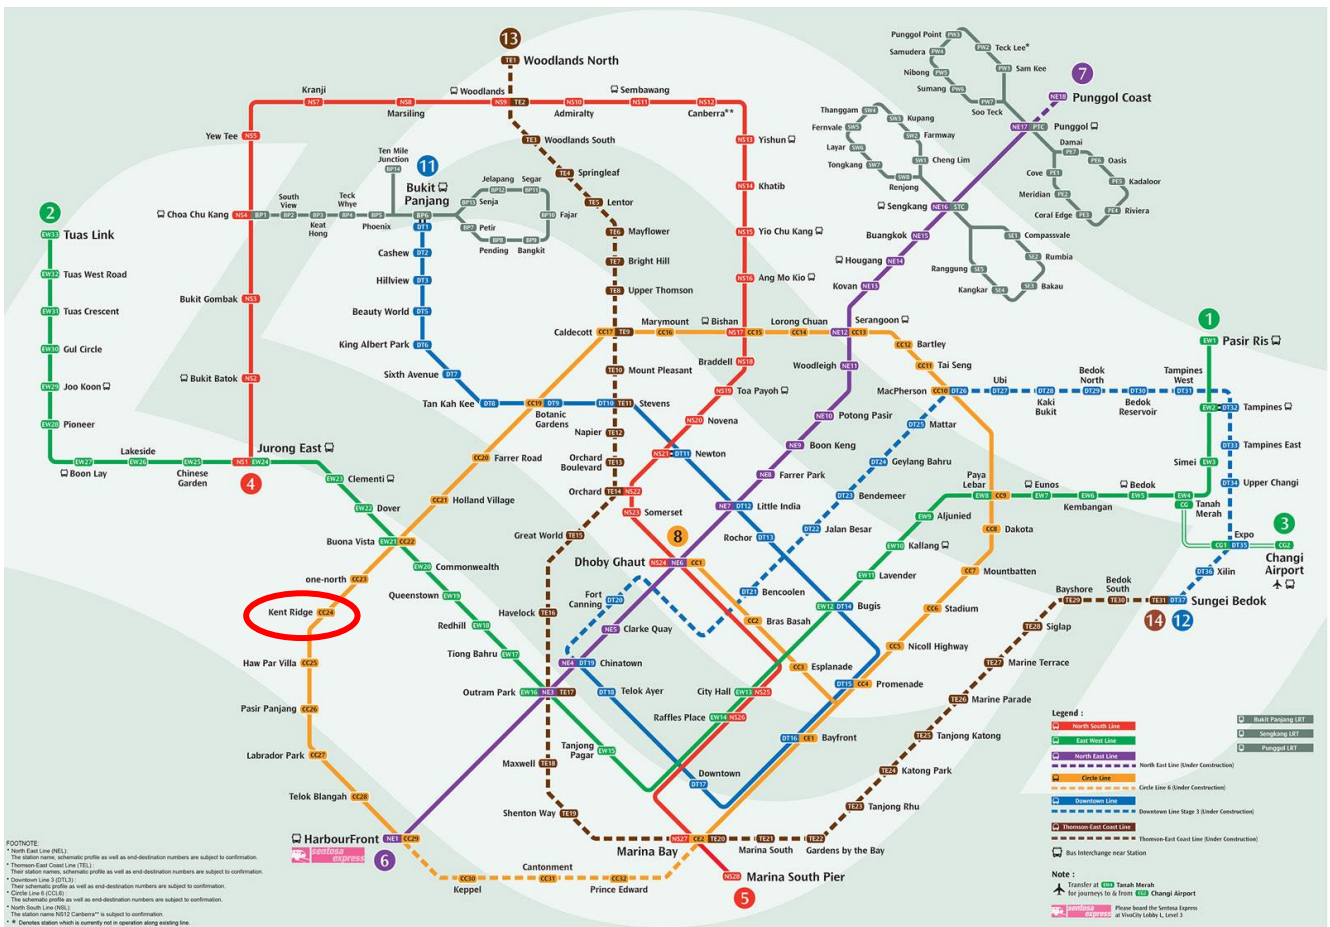

All other information regarding visa regulations and applications can be found on the Singapore Ministry of Foreign Affairs website.

How to get around in Singapore

Public transport: The mass rapid transit \(MRT\) network covers most parts of Singapore and is a convenient mode of travel.

The closest MRT station to the Centre for Life Sciences (CeLS) at NUS is Kent Ridge MRT Station (CC24) (Circle Line), a 10-minute walk from CeLS.

Taxis are also readily available. You can use the ride-sharing app Grab (similar to Uber).

Hotels

Please find below a list of hotel suggestions. Participants must make hotel reservations themselves. Please note that there are no preferential rates negotiated for this meeting.

Currency/credit cards

The local currency is the Singapore Dollar (SGD); however, USD can also be used.

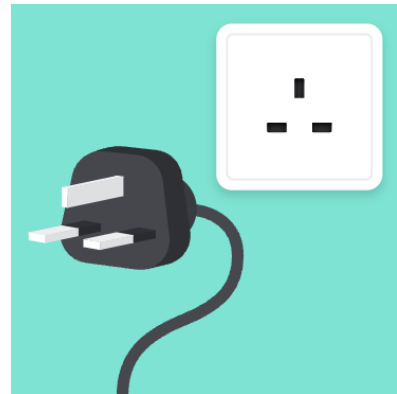

Foreign visitors can exchange money at a bureau de change or withdraw from ATMs. Credit cards are also widely accepted in Singapore.

Power plugs and sockets

Singapore uses Type G power plugs and sockets, the same as the UK.

- Plug Type: Type G (three rectangular prongs)
- Voltage: 230V
- Frequency: 50Hz

If you are coming from the UK, you will not need an adapter. Otherwise, you will need a Type G adapter.

Telecom services for SIM cards

You can get a prepaid SIM card in Singapore for short-term use.

Where to buy

- At the airport
- Telecom shops – Official stores of Singtel, StarHub, M1, etc.
- Convenience stores – 7-Eleven, Cheers, FairPrice Xpress
- Online – Some providers allow eSIM purchases

If your phone supports eSIM, you can buy a digital SIM from Singtel, Airalo, or Holafly before arriving.

On-campus Wi-Fi

All visitors will have access to on-campus Wi-Fi. Details will be provided on the day of the event.
