Working Group on International Internet-Related Public Policy Issues (CWG-Internet), decided on 20 September 2019 to hold an open consultation

Topic: «International internet-related public policy issues on harnessing new and emerging telecommunications/ICTs for sustainable development"

1. How will new and emerging telecommunications/ICTs impact both the internet and sustainable development, including the digital economy?

Response: internet becomes a cross-cutting tool that enables emerging digital/ict technology to tackle the issues of social, cultural and economic rights for the wellbeing of people, and help for the achievement of sustainable development.

2. What are the opportunities and challenges for the adoption and growth of the new and emerging telecommunications/ICTs and internet?

Response: The opportunities can be resume as "you can't stop progress", many growth and emerging digital tool identifying for resolving human being issues can help tackle the issues of the goals of sustainable development .

The challenges should be to observe the interest of human rights, and the preservation of job employment.

3. How can governments and the other stakeholders harness the benefits of new and emerging telecommunications/ICTs?
   Response:
   - By set up the policy and regulation for the benefit use of emerging telecommunications/ICTs for social, cultural and economic rights of is citizens.
   - By convey and set up multistakeholders approach in digital inclusion to collect and implement the needs of its citizens

4. What are the best practices for promoting human skills, institutional capacity, innovation and investment for new and emerging telecommunications/ICTs?

Response:
- The use of the benefit of different existing mechanisms that help strengthening capacity building (for example in Africa continent the PRIDA project, ICCAN support, etc…).
- Promoting emerging of young start up innovation
- Promoting research development digital lab