- ✓ Inviting collaboration across sectors and borders
- ✓ Addressing the role of ICT in meeting critical world socio-economic challenges.

Confronting the Future – Key Conversa

Some key new standards:

- Video codec ITU-T H.265: double the efficiency of Primetime Emmy award winning H.264
- G.fast: provides broadband (<1Gb/s) over traditional copper telephone wires
- ITU-T H.810: interoperability for personal health systems
- ITU-T H.860: enables remote patient monitoring

17 March 2014

Some key future standards:

- Smart water management (joint ITU/UNESCO Report recently published)
- Human exposure to electromagnetic fields: new database empowers consumers
- Intelligent Transport: joint car and ICT industries collaboration with ITU and UNECE on standards for autonomous cars

IPR

- 2012 Patent Roundtable debated whether existing IP systems stifle innovation
- TSB Director's IPR Group meeting today
- Meaning of reasonable in RAND
- Use of injunctions in context of Standards
 Essential Patents
- Non-discrimination

Youth and the UN

- Stepping up actions in response to Ban Ki-moon's call in 2012 to make 'working with and for women and young people' a key priority
- ITU sectors are supporting this call to action
- The UN Inter-Agency Network for Youth Development (IANYD) is preparing for the Post-2015 development agenda
- Process is being led by the UN Special Envoy for Youth: Mr Ahmad Alhendawi

Youth and the UN

- ITU is providing:
 - an online platform to crowdsource input to the global Post-2015 development agenda
 - direct technical and analytical support to UN System experts directly involved in the Post-2015 negotiations
- ITU is pleased to be involved in exploring ways to connect public sector institutions to citizens and constituents
- An excellent opportunity to engage citizens in public consultation and dialogue on the issues affecting them
- See https://crowdsourcing.itu for further information
