

UNITED NATIONS
UNIVERSITY

OpenCourseWare

Widening Access to Knowledge through Open Sharing: The Growing OpenCourseWare Movement

WSIS PARALLEL EVENT

Monday, 14 November 2005
15.00 - 19.00
Saint Augustin Conference Room
Kram Expo Centre

 Refreshments will be provided

PROGRAMME

15.00 - 15.30 Keynote Address

Speaker: Dr. G. M. (Mike) Reed, Director of the United Nations University
International Institute for Software Technology (UNU-IIST)

15.30 - 16.40 Setting the Context: The World of Open Educational Resources

Moderator: Marshall Smith, Education Program Director,
William and Flora Hewlett Foundation

Panellists:

- Derek Keats, Executive Director of Information and Communication Services, University of the Western Cape
- Paula Le Dieu, Director of Creative Commons International
- Karen Lynch, Communications Director, Development Gateway Foundation

16.40 - 17.50 The Growing International OpenCourseWare Movement

Moderator: Shigeru Miyagawa, Professor and Faculty Advisor, MIT OCW

Panellists:

- Yoshimi Fukuhara, Professor, Keio University
- Divina Frau Meigs, Professor, Université Paris 3-Sorbonne
- Mary Lee, Associate Provost, Tufts University, and Dean for Educational Affairs, Tufts University School of Medicine

17.50 - 18.45 Benefits and Challenges to Using and Adapting OpenCourseWare Materials

Moderator: Brendan Barrett, Academic Programme Officer, UNU

Panellists:

- Kuzvinetsa Peter Dzvimbo, Rector, African Virtual University
- Elizabeth Longworth, Director of the Information Society Division, UNESCO
- Chunyan Wang, Professor, Renmin University of China School of Law, and China and Project Representative for Creative Commons

18.45 - 18.50 Concluding Remarks

ORGANIZERS

United Nations University
UNU Online Learning/Media Studio
MIT OpenCourseWare
WSIS Education, Academia and
Research Thematic Caucus

<http://www.unu.edu>
<http://www.onlinelearning.unu.edu>
<http://ocw.mit.edu>

<http://www.wsis-cs.org/caucuses.html>

 Massachusetts
Institute of Technology

 UNU Online Learning

Please visit UNU at ICT4ALL Exhibition booth 1201, 15-19 November 2005