Telecom Review - the telecom industry's business monthly magazine - is one of the most active magazines present at the major telecoms events in the MENA region. It covers all the aspects of the telecom industry and features operators', vendors' and suppliers' news and activities, along with the latest industry trends. Telecom Review is also very close to telecoms regulators in the MENA region, thus keeping its readers updated on new regulations of the industry as well as existing opportunities. With readership based in 31 countries, Telecom Review takes telecoms journalism to the next level.
